T. WHAT ARE THEY SAYING?

- A. My brother Theodore doesn't think he can go to the theater with us tomorrow because he has a sore throat.
- B. Another sore throat? That's terrible! Didn't he just get over one last Thursday?
- A. That's right. Believe it or not, this is the third sore throat he's had this month. My poor brother always gets sick when the weather is very cold.
- B. I hope it isn't serious this time.
- A. I don't think so. Theodore says his sore throat isn't bothering him too much, but both my mother and father say he'll have to rest in bed for at least a few days. They're worried because he isn't eating anything, and they don't think he looks very healthy.
- B. Then I guess he won't be going to the Sunday concert either.
- A. Probably not. And he's very disappointed. He really loves classical music.
- B. Well, I'm sorry our plans fell through. Please tell Theodore I hope he feels better soon. Oh, I almost forgot. My little sister Martha is having a small birthday celebration today at three thirty. Would you like to come?
- A. Yes, of course. Thank you very much.

X. NORMAN'S BROKEN KEYBOARD

Dear Amy,

I really enjoyed visiting you in your new apartment. It's one of the nicest apartments I've ever seen. I liked everything about it: the modern kitchen and bathroom, the elegant living room and dining room, and the sunny bedrooms. I can't believe there's even a garden with lemon and orange trees in front of the building. I think you'll be very happy in your new neighborhood. It's certainly very convenient to be so near a supermarket, a movie theater, and a train station.

I'm looking forward to seeing you again and meeting your new neighbors.

Sincerely,
Norman

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend Max Miller for the job of computer programmer at the ABC Computer Company. During the nine years I've known him, he's been an excellent employee and a kind and honest friend. He's never missed a day's work at our company, and he's always been on time. But most important, Max Miller really understands what makes a good computer programmer.

Sincerely,
Norman Brown
Manager
XYZ Computer Company

3.

Dear Brian,

I just finished reading your most recent poems, and in my opinion, they're amazing. The poem about the environment is very original, but my favorite ones are "Missing My Mother" and "Under My Umbrella."

According to my wife and friends, you're becoming famous in many foreign countries, and your poems are being translated into Russian, Chinese, German, Spanish, and Japanese. I think that's fantastic!

Have you begun writing your new novel yet? I wonder when we'll be hearing more about it.

Norman

Dear Michael,

Remember when you explained to me how to make your mother's famous chicken and mushroom casserole? Well, I made some for dinner last night, and I'm afraid something must have gone wrong. I might have burnt the chicken, or maybe I didn't put in enough onions and mushrooms. I don't know what happened, but I know I must have made some mistakes because nobody enjoyed it very much. Tom and Nancy didn't complain, but they said yours was much more delicious.

Do you think you could send your mother's recipe to me by e-mail so I can try it again? When you explained it to me, I should have written it down.

Norman

Dr. West works very fast and never makes mistakes. He's the best dentist on State Street.

3. Mr. Jackson can't stand any other dentist.

I go to Dr. West because I almost never feel any pain when I'm in his special dentist's chair. I could stay and rest there all day.

4. Betsy always talks about Dr. West.

What I like most about Dr. West is that he doesn't ask a lot of questions when a patient's mouth is full of dental instruments.

5. Dr. West's Spanish-speaking patients are especially pleased.

Dr. West studies Spanish in his spare time. We won't see any specialist but Dr. West.

6. Margaret is very enthusiastic about Dr. West.

One day I got the hiccups in his office. Dr. West just stopped and stood there waiting patiently. He didn't make me feel stupid at all!

7. Patty thinks Dr. West is the hardest working dentist she knows.

Dr. West never quits working all day. He even skips his lunch!

8. Steve also likes Dr. West.

When I broke my leg playing basketball last spring, I missed two appointments. Dr. West wasn't upset at all. He even visited me in the hospital. We discussed politics and sports. That's when I discovered that Dr. West likes to ski and skate.

Q. BEVERLY WILSON'S BROKEN KEYBOARD

Dear Betty,

You've probably heard from Bob about the terrible robberies we've been having in our neighborhood. (There have been seven robberies in five weeks!) Of course, everybody's been very worried because they still haven't discovered who the robbers are.

Last Wednesday, my neighbor's bicycle was stolen from his basement. The next evening, somebody broke into a building on Brighton Boulevard and took several silver bracelets, a wallet, and two wedding rings.

Then last weekend, believe it or not, the Reliable Bank was robbed. I'll always remember the evening of the robbery. I was taking a bath, and my husband, Bill, was reading his favorite novel in bed when Rover began barking. He must have heard the robbers driving away. By the time I got out of the bathtub, everybody in the neighborhood was talking about the robbers' escape.

Well, ever since the bank robbery last weekend, we've all been very nervous. Some of the neighbors are so worried that they're thinking about moving away. Bill and I have been wondering what we should do.

Love,

Beverly

Dear Betsy,

We're having a wedding anniversary celebration on Wednesday for my brother-in-law, Barry, and his wife, Roberta, and we would love it if you and your husband, Walter, were there. It won't be a very big celebration, just a few relatives, William, Vincent, Elizabeth, Steve, and of course my brothers and their wives.

We've heard that your brother's little boy Bobby is visiting you this week. Why don't you bring him along with you when you come over on Wednesday?

Love,

Beverly

3.

Dear Albert,

We're having a wonderful time on our vacation in Boston, but we wish you and your wife were here with us. I'm positive both you and Barbara would love it here. Barbara would love the Boston Public Garden and the boats on the Charles River. And you would have a wonderful time visiting the universities and the Boston Public Library. We're staying with Bill's relatives while we're in Boston. They live in a very modern high-rise building with a beautiful view of the river. We've been very lucky. Bill's relatives drive us everywhere.

The weather in Boston was very warm when we arrived, but now it's windy. I wish we had brought warmer clothes to wear.

By the way, Bill and I went to a lively baseball game last Wednesday, and we've been to the ballet twice. We've also been very busy buying presents for everybody at home and souvenirs for ourselves. (Unfortunately, we weren't able to buy the watch your brother Walter wanted.)

Love,

Beverly

Jeff's Problem

When I was unhappy with my job last month, my friend told me not to complain to him. He said I should tell my boss how I felt. So I decided to take my friend's advice. I made an appointment with my boss and told her why I didn't like my job. My boss listened quietly for a while, and then she told me why she wasn't satisfied with my work. She said I worked much too slowly, I made too many mistakes, and I complained too much. She told me she thought we'd both be happier if I worked someplace else. I'm very sorry I listened to my friend's advice. If I hadn't listened to his advice, I wouldn't have been fired and I wouldn't be out of work right now.

Amy and Tom

I started going out with Tom when I was a teenager. We fell in love with each other when we were in high school. When I was 25 years old, Tom asked me to marry him, and I accepted. My parents urged me not to marry Tom. They told me if I married Tom, I'd always regret it. They said he didn't work hard enough, he wasn't serious enough, and he would never be successful. Well, I'm glad I didn't follow my parents' advice, and so are they. Tom and I have been married for 20 years, and we've been very happy. Tom has a good job, and he's a wonderful husband and father. Our sons are teenagers now, and my parents are a little concerned about them because they aren't serious enough. But I'm not worried about my sons at all. They're just like their father used to be.
